NEWS OF THE DAY.

—Strawberries are plentiful in New York at twenty-five cents a quart.

—Dom Pedro was doing Cincinnati yesterday, and will shake the dust of Porkopolis off his feet this morning.

—The Berkshire Woolen Company, at Great Barrington, Massachusetts, failed yesterday. Liabilities $400,000.

—According to Dr. Mary Walker if the American girls in San Francisco were not closely watched many of them would marry Chinamen.

—The Print Mills at Manchester, New Hampshire, shut down on Saturday owing to low prices. One hundred hands have been thrown out of employment.

—The Cincinnati Commercial has noticed with alarm the statements that the young ladies at some of our colleges propose to graduate this year in calico dresses, and it says: "It will look odd to see a girl in a $5 dress picking up a $12 bouquet."

—About this time the Coroner, as he passes along a residence street, smiles to see guileless little girls trying to see how many hundred times they can skip without stopping, for he knows that the fees are the same, no matter what the size of the corpse.

—Clara Morris' physician has assured her that all she needs to restore her to health is a course of vigorous exercise on the plains this summer. If she kills a few Indians, and thus eases up the strain upon her conscience for deeds of omission, so much the better.

—The National Independent Convention will meet at Indianapolis on Wednesday. Judge Davis, Ben. Butler, Senator Booth, of California, and ex-Treasurer Spinner are the prominent men named in connection with the Presidential nomination. Peter Cooper or George Opdyke will preside over the Convention.

—We must add, with the utmost kindness to Mr. Riddle, and everybody else concerned in this business, the opinion that if Mr. Blaine were a notorious horse thief, who had at last been caught under the most suspicious circumstances by a border ruffian jury of Sheriff Lynch's men, they could not be induced to hang him unless they had something more nearly approaching real evidence than anything that has yet been adduced against him in this whole pitiful business. There may be evidence that he has done something wrong—we ourselves once thought so—but if there is, in Heaven's name produce it. This tattle about a dead man's having told some people a story contradicting the story he told other people about a transfer of bonds in Mr. Blaine's presence, which he guessed was to Mr. Blaine himself, begins to look like childishness.—N. Y. Tribune.

NEWS FROM FOREIGN LANDS.

The Freshest Gleanings from the Old World.

The Turkish Troubles.

BERLIN, May 15.—The memorandum in regard to the Turkish troubles agreed upon by the three Chancellors at their conference here last week has been communicated to the guaranteeing powers. While maintaining Count Andrassy's note as a basis, it concedes the consideration of the reforms demanded by the insurgent leaders. The French and Italian ambassadors have given an official notification of the complete concurrence of their respective Governments in the results of the conference.

War Vessels for Salonica.

The German iron clads Deutschland, Kaiser, Kron Prinz and Friedrich Karl, and the despatch boat Pommerania, under Admiral Botsch, will go to Salonica next week. The gunboat at Nautilus, bound from Malta to Port Said, has been ordered to proceed to Constantinople.

The Turk and Greek.

ATHENS, May 15.—The Turks are reinforcing their positions on the Greek frontier. Greece will take similar action in that quarter. It is alleged that foreign emissaries are endeavoring to induce the Christians on the frontier to revolt. Great agitation prevails in Crete.

Another Victory for the Government.

LONDON, May 15.—The House of Commons last night debated Ryland's resolution that the House regrets that progressive increasing of expenditure recommended by the Government should lead an increase of income tax. Mr. Gathorne defended the increase of the army and said when the tramp of armed men was heard in every country of Europe it was necessary that England should keep her place among nations. The resolution was rejected by a vote of 263 to 175.

The Trouble in Bulgaria.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 15.—It is officially stated that the Bulgarian disturbances are expected to cease shortly. The insurgents have been defeated with great losses in several engagements and many have given in their submissions to the authorities. Fifteen thousand soldiers are now concentrated near Philippoholi. Additional Russian, Italian and Greek men-of-war have arrived here.

Gathering Them In.

SALONICA, May 15.—It is officially announced that eighteen arrests have been made in addition to those previously reported.

TWO ITALIANS of the bark Coswell's crew, who left the vessel in a small boat off the coast of Brazil, are in custody in Buenos Ayres, where they landed.

THE Danish Regsdag was opened yesterday. If the Radical majority should pass a vote of want of confidence in the Ministry, Parliament will again be dissolved.

HOFMANN, Prime Minister of Hesse, will be appointed President of the Imperial Chancellory, to succeed Delbruck, resigned. Hofmann will enter upon his duties on June 1st.

FORTY-FOURTH CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

WASHINGTON, May 15, 1876.

SENATE.

The Belknap Impeachment.

During the morning hour a number of reports of an unimportant character were made from various committees, and the Senate then went into secret session to deliberate on the question of jurisdiction as to the Belknap impeachment.

When the doors were re-opened the Senate sitting as a Court of Impeachment adjourned until to-morrow.

Legislative business was then resumed, and Mr. OGLESBY, from the Committee on Public Lands, reported favorably on the House bill extending the time within which homestead entries upon certain lands in Michigan may be made. Placed on the calendar.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.

The Whisky Ring Prosecutions.

Several resolutions were adopted calling for reports and correspondence as to the whisky ring prosecutions and the dismissal of John B. Henderson as special counsel for the Government, the propriety of turning over the duties of the Internal Revenue Bureau to the Commissioner of Customs, and for a list of Government defaulters since March, 1865. The vote resulted 141 yeas and 69 nays—a party vote.

Silver Coin.

Mr. Payne's bill to authorize the issue of silver coin to the amount of ten millions in exchange for legal tenders, which are only to be reissued after the destruction of an equal amount of fractional currency, was called up, and soon after a vote was taken. The vote resulted yeas 132, nays 73. There not being two-thirds in the affirmative, the bill was defeated.

The Khedive's Present.

Mr. MORRISON moved to suspend the rules and pass the Senate bill to allow Mrs. Minnie Sherman Fitch to receive free of duties a wedding present from the Khedive of Egypt.

The motion was agreed to without the yeas and nays, although Mr. FAULKNER demanded them.

Secretary Bristow.

Mr. HOAR moved to suspend the rules and adopt a resolution declaring that the House has entire confidence in the wisdom, integrity and efficiency with which the Secretary of the Treasury has prosecuted and is prosecuting the class of offenders against the internal revenue laws known as the "Whisky Ring," and does not desire him to make public any information in relation thereto which in his judgment might impair the efficiency of such prosecutions.

Mr. RANDALL—That resolution just reverses what the House has already done. I move to lay it on the table.

Pending action on that motion the House proceeded to the business of the District of Columbia. The charges of Albert Grant against Judge Wylie, of the District of Columbia, were referred to a Select Committee.

Adjourned.

Louisville Races.

LOUISVILLE, May 15.—The annual spring meeting of the Louisville Association opened to-day. The first event was a mile and a quarter dash for an association purse of $300. There were ten starters. "Ceylon" was the favorite in the pools, but he was a bad loser, "Brakesman" taking the race easily in 2:11. For the Kentucky Derby, a mile and a half dash, was the second race. There were eleven starters. The prize was valued at $2,200, second horse receiving $300. "Vagrant," the Kentucky crack, was a strong favorite in the pools, and he won the race handsomely in 2:38¼. For the closing race, of mile heats and a purse of $500, there were four starters. "Camargo" was the favorite in the pools, but he did not get a heat. The second and third heats were won in 1:45 and 1:46 by "Emma C." The time was excellent, considering the heavy track.

FIRST EDITION.

INVESTIGATING BLAINE.

That Railway Bond Scandal.

A Number of Prominent Witnesses Examined.

NO "CROOKED" TRANSACTIONS DISCOVERED.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The Sub-Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives to-day begun an investigation of the charges against ex-Speaker Blaine in relation to the Fort Smith and Little Rock Railroad bonds. John C. S. Harrison, of Indianapolis, in response to questions put by Mr. Hunton, Chairman, testified that he was the Harrison alluded to in the article published in the Cincinnati Gazette of April 26th, and that the interview as published was correctly reported. He has been Government director of the Union Pacific Railroad for about four years. Clark, President of the Union Pacific Railroad, told witness he had exchanged seventy-five bonds of the Fort Smith and Little Rock Road for fifteen of the new bonds to be issued by the Union Pacific. Witness thought it a strange transaction, and at a meeting of the Board of Directors in September, 1872, moved that a committee be appointed to investigate the matter. Rollins came to witness and asked him to withdraw the motion, as the investigation would involve ex-Speaker Blaine, and might defeat his re-election to the House. Wishing to fully understand the matter, he took Millard, of Omaha, with him the next day to see Rollins, and asked him further in regard to the matter, and Rollins then said it would involve a prominent member of the Republican party. When the House was investigating the Credit Mobilier case Rollins was on the stand. Witness wrote to Wilson, of Iowa, and asked him to propound certain questions in relation to the matter to Rollins, but he saw from the published reports that it was not done. Witness found an entry on the books of the Executive Committee directing Morton, Bliss & Co. to draw on the treasurer for $64,000, and hold Fort Smith & Little Rock bonds as collateral security. Rollins did not tell witness how it would involve Blaine. In the following March an effort was made to change the whole Board of Directors. Witness did not receive any letter from Secretary Delano, but he had a letter in his possession written by Delano to Senator Morton, as follows:

"DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
"WASHINGTON, D. C., February 26, 1873.

"DEAR SIR: As I promised in our conversation yesterday, I now write to say it is deemed advisable to change the entire board of directors for the Union Pacific railroad. I shall, therefore, feel obliged if you will give some name for Indiana in the place of J. C. S. Harrison, against whom there is no personal objection whatever.

"Very respectfully your obedient servant,
"W. C. DELANO, Secretary.

"Hon. O. P. Morton, U. S. Senate."

Witness had never made any investigation about the matter, but understood Wilson had done so. Morton, Bliss & Co. drew on the company for $64,000, and Rollins as Treasurer paid it. Witness regarded the transactions on the books as very mysterious, but thought perhaps they could be satisfactorily explained. He himself knows nothing further about the matter.

Joseph Millard, of Omaha, testified that he had been Government Director of the Union Pacific Railroad about four years. He was present at a conversation between Rollins and Harrison in September, 1872, and heard Rollins say that the investigation spoken of by Harrison would involve a gentleman high in political circles, understood to refer to Blaine, although he does not recollect that his name was mentioned.

By Mr. Harrison—Did I not say to you, after we came out, stick a pin on what Rollins has said about Blaine?

Witness—I do not recollect it. Witness knew nothing about the bonds spoken of, only what appeared on the records of the Executive Committee of the company. He never made any investigation of the matter. Rollins has since told witness several times that he was mistaken about Blaine being mixed up in the matter, and that there was nothing wrong about it.

By Mr. Blaine—Did Harrison ever ask for an explanation of the matter in any meeting had by the Board of Directors.

Witness—No, sir; the interview between Blaine and himself took place in Washington. Blaine in this interview denied that he ever had possession of any Little Rock & Fort Smith Railroad bonds except those for which he subscribed and paid. Blaine did not say he held seventy-five bonds for any of his constituents. On the contrary, he said he did not, and that he had nothing to do with the seventy-five bonds passed to the Union Pacific Railroad Company. Wilson talked with Dillon and others on this subject. Dillon had for two years been President of the company, and the only explanation he obtained was that the bonds were put in by Col. Scott, in accordance with arrangements between him and the Union Pacific Railroad Company. These bonds remain on the books of the company as an unadjusted question, and Col. Scott has not received his salary for the time he was President of the company.

H. Rollins, Secretary and Treasurer of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, testified on being interrogated by Hunton: He did not think Harrison offered a resolution in the Board of Directors to investigate the subject of the ownership of the seventy-five bonds of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, but he thought he simply made an informal motion to investigate the transaction. At that time Rollins had heard the bonds belonged to Blaine, but he could not now say from whom he derived the information. He could only state the fact. When Harrison made his motion or suggestion, he remembered that the road and its management had been a subject of severe criticism in the newspapers and elsewhere. As this transaction had been closed up, he desired to obviate scandal in connection with Blaine's name. Whether the report was true or false, he may have said to Harrison under these circumstances that the bonds in question were Blaine's, or some equivalent expression.

Question by Mr. Hunton—And that an investigation would involve Blaine?

Answer—I may have said they were Blaine's bonds, or that he would be involved in the matter. I may have used words equivalent to these. I merely state as a matter of memory that I heard these bonds were Blaine's bonds, and that Blaine might be involved.

Question—Then you confirm Harrison's statement?

Answer—I have given you my statement.

Rollins, in further testimony, said Harrison was mentioned, the occurrence of the Maine election having taken place two days previous to the meeting, when Blaine was triumphantly elected to Congress. Rollins did not ask Harrison to withdraw his motion, but may have said to him an investigation would involve Blaine.

Question—How would the ownership of these bonds involve Blaine?

Answer—Because it would be thought a questionable transaction, as he could not see why the Union Pacific Railroad should buy bonds of the Little Rock & Fort Smith Railroad Company, or any other company. In acting as he did, he desired to avoid scandal.

Question—What scandal did you desire to avoid?

Answer—The reported connection of Blaine with the bonds.

Question—In what connection was it a scandal?

Answer—It was treated as a scandal, and I presume is now. Unaccompanied by any explanation from Blaine, it would be regarded as a scandal. The public would think it not right. That would be their judgment. Witness knows nothing about Blaine's ownership of any Fort Smith & Little Rock bonds. He thought at the time the conversation between Rollins and Harrison took place that Blaine was mixed up in the transaction, but from conversation with Rollins since all that impression had been dissipated. He understood that an effort was made the next spring to change the entire Board of Directors, but he did not know it had anything to do with their action about these particular bonds. He thought the Credit Mobilier inquiry had something to do with it, as that matter was being investigated about that time. Neither witness nor Harrison were directors at the time of the Credit Mobilier transaction, and they were both re-appointed directors of the Union Pacific.

In response to another question, witness swore that he knows nothing about the case under investigation.

James P. Wilson testified that he had been Government Director of the Union Pacific Railroad Company since 1869, and in reply to questions by Mr. Hunton, said he had seen by the record that certain bonds of the Little Rock & Fort Smith Railroad Company had come into the possession of the Union Pacific Railroad Company. He had heard they came through Col. Thomas A. Scott, President of the company from 1871 to 1872. He had no knowledge of John C. Harrison having introduced at a meeting of the Board of Directors a resolution inquiring how those bonds came into the possession of the company, but Harrison informed him that he had introduced such a resolution, and he was also informed by Harrison that Rollins told him Blaine would be implicated if there should be an investigation. Wilson afterwards had a conversation with Rollins on the subject, when Rollins said Harrison had no right to use Blaine's name in that connection. Witness mentioned the matter to Blaine a few months after September, 1872, when Blaine asserted that he had no interest in the bonds, and no one could be more surprised than himself that his name should be connected with them.

Rollins further testified that he thought he talked with Ames, and derived from him the fact that Col. Thomas A. Scott furnished the seventy-five bonds to the Union Pacific Railroad Company. The reason why old bonds were cancelled and new ones issued in their place was because the Boston parties made arrangements to complete the Little Rock road. He did not know or remember the source. He learned that Blaine was connected with the bonds.

Mr. Blaine asked—Do you know of any circumstance that led you to suspect that I had any connection with the bonds?

Rollins—None, whatever.

Mr. Blaine—Did Mr. Harris renew to you his desire for an investigation?

Rollins—He did not.

Harrison was recalled, and having been asked a question by Hunton whether he could tell the proximate value of seventy-five bonds, reported that he had heard them spoken of as valueless bonds. When he made the motion in the Board of Directors for an investigation he believed them to be valueless, and thought it strange they should be found among the assets of the Union Pacific Railroad Company. That company at the time was a large borrower, and the ten per cent. income bonds commanded only from fifty to sixty cents on the dollar. Harris said that when Rollins was on the stand before the Credit Mobilier Committee he telegraphed to Jeremiah M. Wilson, chairman, to ask Rollins certain questions about the seventy-five bonds, but the questions were not asked, and the next thing he received was information from Secretary Delano that the whole Board of Government Directors (including himself) of the Union Pacific Railroad Company must be changed.

In answer to a question by Mr. Lawrence, he said the bonds were in the possession of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, and that Rollins requested him to withdraw his motion for an investigation, on the ground that it would involve Blaine and defeat his election.

Question—But that remark would seem, from the testimony, to have been made after the Maine election.

Answer—Yes, but that is what Rollins told me.

Mr. Blaine asked a number of questions of Harrison, to which the latter replied that he thought it strange that seventy-five bonds of the Little Rock & Fort Smith Railroad Company should be found among the assets of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, and there must be some corruption about it. He abandoned the investigation before the Board of Directors, and reported to the Congressional Committee.

Blaine—But did you do so officially?

Harrison—I signed my name to the telegram to the chairman as Government Director of the Union Pacific Railroad Company.

Harrison, in answer to a question by Mr. Blaine, said: So far as the books and papers of the Union Pacific Railroad Company are concerned, your name is not connected with these bonds.

Mr. Blaine—Have you reason to believe that I was corruptly associated with them?

Harrison—Only from what Rollins stated to me.

Blaine—Have you not said that you held something that would blow Blaine sky-high whenever you chose?

Harrison—I only repeated what Rollins told me.

Blaine—You did not speak of having dynamite that would blow me up?

Harrison—Nothing of the kind. I have always had a friendly feeling for you, and hope that you will come out of this matter satisfactorily. If you had written to me I should have told you in reply that the books of the Union Pacific Railroad Company do not show your name in connection with the seventy-five bonds, or in any transaction of that kind. All my information came from Rollins, who said an investigation would ruin you and defeat your election to Congress.

Blaine—When I had been elected two days before?

Harrison—That's what Rollins told me.

Mr. Blaine, addressing Hunton, said that although the resolution of the House under which this investigation was held did not refer to him by name, the proceedings had been conducted as if he had been on the stand.

Mr. Hunton said that while it was true that Blaine's name was not mentioned in the resolution, there was not a man, woman or child but knew the investigation was designed for him, and so Blaine must understand it after his conversation with him.

Mr. Blaine thanked Hunton for his courtesy and kindness in opening the doors to this investigation, and said that on Colonel Scott's testimony this case must stand or fall.

Colonel Thomas A. Scott said he could explain not only all transactions with reference to himself, but everything about the seventy-five bonds. This was a correct and proper transaction, based upon equities due himself, and with which Mr. Blaine had nothing to do.

Col. Scott was sworn, and on being examined by Mr. Hunton, said that he formerly owned the seventy-five bonds of the Little Rock & Fort Smith Railroad Company, and bought them a year and four months previously to his selling them to the Union Pacific Railroad. He bought them from Josiah Caldwell, who was negotiating bonds of that company. Caldwell belonged to Boston, but he did not know where he now was. He understood, however, that Caldwell, during the panic of 1873, went to Europe after his failure in the west, and was there now. He gave Caldwell eighty cents on the dollar for the bonds. The purchase was made in 1870, when he had nothing to do with the Union Pacific Railroad Company. He gave $60,000 for the bonds, and sold them to the Union Pacific Railroad Company through Morton, Bliss & Co., for nearly $64,000. When, in March, 1871, he entered upon the duties of President of the company, the stock was low down, and everything connected with it depressed, but it was not long before there was a marked improvement in all its affairs. He had believed the company would give him liberal compensation for his services. He was pressed for money, which he wanted more than the mere salary, and it was finally suggested that the company should buy these seventy-five bonds of the Little Rock and Fort Smith Railroad Company. He was to have the option of buying them back. The Executive Committee agreed to buy the bonds at a price fixed through Morton, Bliss & Co., and the bonds went to the Union Pacific Railroad Company in this direct way, and in no other. His year's salary had never been paid. That would be $8,000, with interest. If the Arkansas road had been finished the bonds would have been worth from ninety to one hundred cents on the dollar. He had rendered the Union Pacific Railroad Company a service for which there was no market value. He was satisfied that if the Little Rock and Fort Smith Railroad Company had been built its bonds would have been as good as those of the Union Pacific are to-day. He repeated that this purchase of seventy-five bonds by the Company was in consideration of valuable services rendered by him. The investment of these bonds was because the Company wanted to do an equitable thing for him. The Company did not display the transaction on their books, and never expected it would become a subject of investigation by Congress.

Question—I understand you to say that the Executive Committee, of which you were ex-officio a member, bought the seventy-five bonds to oblige you?

Answer—Partially to oblige me and also in consideration of valuable services.

Col. Scott repeated that the bonds belonged to him, and were sold to the company when he wanted money, and the amount he received helped him to pay his debts. He had twice asked for his salary, but had not yet received it.

Question—Do you know whether Blaine had any part in these transactions?

Answer—I never had any relations with Blaine in Little Rock & Ft. Smith Railroad bonds, directly or indirectly.

Mr. Lawrence—If I understand you correctly, the sale of the bonds to the Union Pacific Railroad Company was adopted as a means to compensate you in part for extraordinary services?

Answer—Yes.

Question—How does the compensation you received compare with the compensation of other companies for similar services?

Answer—The Reading Railroad Company gives its President $30,000 per annum, the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore $34,000, and the Erie $40,000. But when you come to consider how low down the stock of the Union Pacific Railroad Company was when I became President, and the prosperous condition of the company soon after, my compensation was worth double the value of the seventy-five bonds of the Little Rock & Fort Smith Company. The reason why compensation was given in this form was that the Executive Committee did not wish to interfere with or disturb the fixed salary of $8,000 to the President.

Question—Have you any knowledge or information that connects Blaine with the seventy-five bonds?

Answer—None whatever. I always believed that Caldwell, from whom I purchased the bonds, was the principal man in negotiating them.

Blaine—Did I ever speak or write to you in behalf of Caldwell?

Answer—You never did.

Blaine—Have you any knowledge at all that I was interested in the bonds before you purchased them, or was in any way interested in the proceeds after you sold them to the Union Pacific Railroad Company?

Answer—I have no knowledge or belief whatever that you had anything to do with them.

John McClure, of Arkansas, was sworn and testified that he was acquainted with Josiah Caldwell, who was connected with the Little Rock & Fort Smith Railroad Company. He was asked the question: Did you ever hear from Caldwell the disposition made of any bonds of the company, when Mr. Blaine interposed, saying he had suffered no doubt in the estimation of good people because of the allegation that he was interested in the bonds that went to the Union Pacific Company, as there was nothing else in the resolution under which this investigation was held. He was entitled to a report on that subject alone. He did not want it complicated with anything else. He wanted it unmixed with any other question. It should stand exactly where the witnesses left it. He thought he had a right in the name of justice to make this demand.

The witness (McClure) said he knew nothing about the matter that would be testimony.

By Mr. Lawrence—Have you any knowledge or information as to the issue of the seventy-five bonds concerning which testimony has been taken?

Answer—I never knew that any bonds were sold, and all I know about them is what Caldwell told me.

It was decided that hearsay testimony could not be taken, and the committee adjourned.

ANOTHER "DEPARTURE."

Political Conference in New York—Permanent Officers Appointed—Speeches by Carl Schurz, Dr. Osgood and Others—Seeking for a New Road to Office.

NEW YORK, May 15.—About three hundred prominent gentlemen from various parts of the country assembled at the Fifth Avenue Hotel to-day to attend the political conference called by Wm. C. Bryant, Horace White, Theo. D. Woolsey, A. H. Bullock and Carl Schurz. Secretary Lodge called the meeting to order and read the call.

The following were appointed permanent officers: President—Theo. D. Woolsey; Vice Presidents—G. Fogg, New Hampshire; C. W. Willard, Vermont; H. L. Pierce, Martin Brimme, J. H. Seelye, Mark Hopkins, James F. Clark, Massachusetts; Leonard Bacon, Joseph Cummings, Connecticut; R. Hazard, Wentworth Higginson, Rhode Island; W. C. Bryant, John Jay, O. Ottendorf, Solomon R. B. Wood, Cyrus W. Field, Charles Butler, Samuel Osgood, New York; Thomas Balch, Henry Lea, Wm. Welsh, Pennsylvania; ex-Governor Miller, J. D. Cox, Ohio; Col. Martin, Indiana; John H. Bryant, Robert Collyer, Illinois; James Davis, F. W. Horn, John McNeil, James S. Rollins, Missouri; Secretaries—H. C. Lodge, Massachusetts; F. A. Walker, Connecticut; A. Brown, Pennsylvania; A. Ricenna, Ohio; Amos Clark, Missouri.

President Woolsey said that for eight of ten years past the country was growing politically worse. Leading and strong men of the Republican party had made the country blush with shame, and now this meeting was called to decide what was best to be done to remedy matters.

Carl Schurz thanked the audience for such a large attendance. It was a good sign when men came forward and showed their political independence. Every citizen should see that the party he belongs to is a good one. None have been invited here but men not overawed by any party, and such as are known to have the best interests of the country at heart. Independents, it is said, are on the fence, but it is owing to the vast quantity of mud on the sides of the fence. They are said to descend. The object of this conference is to promote and further the general interests of the country.

Parke Godwin, Judge L. S. Foster, of Connecticut; John W. Hoyt, Wisconsin; Martin Brimmit, Massachusetts, and Carl Schurz were appointed a committee to draw up some definite plan of action, and to take such other measures as may be deemed necessary, and report to the convention.

Dr. Osgood spoke as follows: It is every man's duty to be a patriot, be he clerical or lay. Of late the Government has been separated from that high morality necessary, and sporting politicians have stepped into office who are of a base and most damnable class. We do not like the White House. An unpleasant odor has arisen all around it, and while believing that the present incumbent is not a bad man, yet his associates are bad. He has placed men in office who have made us all hang our heads by their misdeeds. We want a man in that office intelligent, honest, capable, high-toned and fearless. [Applause.]

Franklin McVeigh, of Chicago, said he came on, as he was interested in Mr. Bristow, and thought the conference was also. He did not know what would be done, but thought that the composers of the conference were mere boys in politics, that they were too abstract, and should get down to something personal and definite.

Charles F. Adams, Jr., said he would not fire off his gun like McVeigh till he first saw his bird. [Laughter.] He preferred waiting for the report of the committee before presuming that nothing positive would be done.

Henry A. Brown, of Philadelphia, said a rigorous course of politics in Philadelphia had excluded every man of respectability from office. Public honor was degraded. Office and emolument appeared to be the aim of life. Money, money was all the cry. Youth was corrupted and manhood put to shame. We desire to put a stop to these things, and preserve our Government from destruction.

William C. Bryant begged to be excused from speaking.

Dr. Leonard Bacon said he came to hear and learn. The issue before the country to-day is a moral one. Will we pay our debt? The Government has acted in bad faith, and their notes are to-day living lies on their face. Offices are sought solely for profit, not for honor.

Prof. Julius Seelye said he did not believe we had fallen on degenerate times. The cases of corruption were few, considering the number of persons in office. We can reform all these things by having a President who will think office a solemn trust, courageous and above suspicion; who will appoint men to office on merit, and remove only for cause.

Col. Higginson, of Rhode Island, said the party was tottering from its very strength, but a little stirring up would do it no harm.

Wm. Welsh, of Philadelphia, said it was a question whether we were slaves or not. He thought not. The people were in the hands of wily office-seekers, and required to be shaken over the bottomless pit before waking up. We want good men in office to save the country, and must have them, or we had better apply for annexation to Brazil.

Mr. Schurz announced that the committee had arduous duties, and could not report this evening. An address was being drawn up to the people of the United States, but was not ready yet; also some resolutions.

The conference adjourned until to-morrow.

WAR IN LOUISIANA.

A Score of Colored Men Murdered by a Mob of Blood-thirsty Regulators.

A Pitched Battle at Laurel Hill—The State Ablaze with Excitement—The Whites of Several Counties Armed and in the Saddle—Colored Men Fleeing Across the Border.

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—A New Orleans Times special, dated Summit, Miss., May 15, says: Information was received here last night of a desperate affray between negroes and whites at Laurel Hill, West Felicina Parish, near the Mississippi line. On Friday night about thirty negroes went to the store of a white man in the vicinity, and calling him to the door, riddled him with bullets. A posse from Bayou Sara went out on Saturday for the body, but the negroes would not give it up. A fight ensued and three negroes were killed. Two whites are missing. The negroes are gathering in strong force. Eleven hundred are said to be under arms. Whites are going down from neighboring counties in Mississippi, and a serious fight is expected.

A special to the Republican from Bayou Sara, La., dated May 15th, says: This is what I consider as reliable as to the result of Saturday night's affrays: Eight colored men have been shot dead and four were hanged. About twenty were wounded. No whites were killed. Persons just from the scene report sixty blacks killed, but this statement I consider as exaggerated. Twenty colored men are reported to be held as prisoners. Their fate is uncertain, but the supposition is they will be killed. The number of negroes killed will probably never be ascertained, precautions having been taken to remove the dead secretly. The number of Regulators under arms is said to be five hundred. There are squads from East Baton Rouge and East and West Felicina and Wilson county, Miss.

The colored people are said to be arming in self-defence. On Saturday and Sunday nights numbers of colored men crossed to Pointe Coupee to escape those who are hunting them.

A second dispatch from Bayou Sara, of the date of May 15, says: There has been a regular engagement at Laurel Hill between the white and colored men. Three whites are reported killed. God only knows where this will end.

The Country is Ablaze with excitement. All the whites are armed and in the saddle.

Acting Governor Antoine received the following dispatch from Dr. Kaufman, Sheriff of East Felicina Parish, dated Bayou Sara to-day: "In reply to your telegram, I have to say that seventeen colored men are killed and many wounded on the line of Mississippi and Louisiana. A large number of armed whites are approaching the town. I cannot summon and secure a posse comitatus for the support of the civil authority and the suppression of riots and the prevention of bloodshed. Nothing but military authority will keep peace here. I, therefore, respectfully request that military aid be placed at my disposal."

The dispatches have been laid before General Augur, commanding the department, who has referred them to Washington.

THE M. E. CONFERENCE.

The Book Concern Troubles.

BALTIMORE, May 15.—Bishop Simpson presided at the General Conference to-day. A memorial was presented from the Baltimore Conference setting forth that the Committee on Exhibit of the Book Concern appointed at the annual session called attention to the loss of $261,000 net capital as reported in 1872, compared with 1871, and requesting the Book Committee at New York, in the annual statement, to give reasons for the differences. As this request has been complied with, therefore the General Conference is requested to require the book agents to furnish a detailed statement of the causes of such deficit, how much on account of real estate, how much merchandise, and how much on account of book agents. Referred.

A resolution to alter the restrictive rule so as to give as nearly as possible equal representation of clerical and lay delegates to the several Conferences was referred.

The report of J. Rothweiler and Rev. Dr. Chalfant, fraternal delegates to the Evangelical Association at Philadelphia on October 14, 1877, was presented and read.

The following was submitted:

WHEREAS, Our Lord's Prayer and complete and perfect form is found on record in only one place in the New Testament, namely, Matthew 6, 9—13; therefore,

Resolved, That this form be substituted and published in our Book of Discipline, instead of that form now in use.

Referred.

E. M. Fleming, of Des Moines, moved to strike out the words "Holy Catholic," and insert "one universal Church of Christ" in the Baptismal Ritual. Referred.

The order of the day was suspended for the formal reception of the fraternal delegate from the Presbyterian Church. Rev. F. J. Patten was introduced, and addressed the Conference, bearing cordial and fraternal salutations from the Presbyterian Church. His remarks were frequently applauded, and at their conclusion a resolution of gratification at his visit, and fraternal and Christian sympathies with the Presbyterian Church were unanimously adopted.

It was agreed that the secretary should strike from the proceedings of Saturday last all reference to questions of veracity between Dr. Nelson and Dr. Lanahan.

Adjourned.

A $200,000 HOTEL.

What Dr. Pierce is Doing—An Important Enterprise.

We learn than Dr. R. V. Pierce, proprietor of the "World's Dispensary," in this city, has perfected the purchase of a large lot of land, on which he proposes to erect a large hotel for the accommodation of numerous patients, coming hither from all parts of the compass. The land purchased by the interprising Doctor is 234 feet front on Prospect Avenue, running through to Fargo avenue, 332 feet; also an adjoining lot extending from the above to Connecticut street. It is in the midst of our extensive system of public parks, fronts the old and beautiful Prospect Park, is but a short distance from the "Circle" in one direction, and the "Lake Front" in the other. The site selected is a fine one, being both beautiful and healthful; is one of the highest portions of our city, easily accessible yet sufficiently retired to secure quiet, and commands a pleasant view of the lake and river, as well as of the surrounding city and country. We understand that it is the intention of Dr. Pierce to erect a hotel at the cost of at least two hundred thousand dollars, where those who come to enjoy the benefit of his treatment may find all desired accommodations under one roof, instead of being scattered over the city, as at present. We are further given to understand that our architects will be invited to submit plans for the proposed structure without delay.—Buffalo Express.

McKelvey's 19th Triennial Sale.

The attention of the public is called to the advertisement of Mr. Jno. A. McKelvy, which appears in another column of this paper. Mr. McKelvy announces this sale as the largest that he ever had since he has been engaged in the business. He has a much larger stock than ever before, and one too that cannot be surpassed west of the Mountains. He would also call particular attention to a lot of fine Harness, which he will sell for less than the stock cost. There will be sold, also, without reserve, a lot of very fine horses, and among them are some fast ones. This sale will afford the young men of Pittsburgh and vicinity a chance to purchase a turnout that will be unexceptionable in every particular. The sale will be positive, and there will be no postponement on account of weather.

THE CENTENNIAL SUNDAY.

The Opinions of Several of Pittsburgh's Leading Exhibitors Upon the Question of Closing Upon the Sabbath—A Preponderance of Opinion in Favor of Respecting the Lord's Day.

The controversy that arose over the question of closing the Centennial Exhibition has spread beyond the limits of Philadelphia, and is fast assuming national proportions. Though the Commissioners have decided that the exhibition shall be closed upon the Sabbath there is a determined effort being made by a large class, in the name of the workingmen, to have this decision reviewed, and the exhibition thrown open to the public upon that day. There seems to be an effort to precipitate into this controversy every issue of turmoil that has vexed the consideration of the Sabbath question, when it has been considered with relation to the right of having public amusements on that day. Upon this question every one will at once take sides, and it is interesting to know the position that the exhibitors will assume in the controversy.

With a view of ascertaining the status of our local exhibitors a GAZETTE reporter yesterday visited several manufacturers who are largely represented in the Centennial, and, of those talked with, the proportion in favor of keeping the exhibition closed on Sunday was as two to one.

THE WORKINGMEN'S ARGUMENTS.

A representative of the firm of Jones & Laughlin said that as a firm they would go upon the record as against the opening on the Sabbath. This gentleman believed that the men employed by the firm, about two thousand two hundred in number, were, however, unanimously in favor of the opening. They argued, he said, speaking as a class, that one day of absence from work, taking their wages at a very low average, would cost them over $4,000, and in the event of their being deprived of the opportunity of going to the Centennial on the Sabbath it was quite questionable whether they would go to church. The firm had resolved that, in the event of the successful agitation of the question of opening on Sunday, they would permit their employes at the Centennial to refrain from labor upon that day, in fact they would require them to observe the Sabbath.

ONE WHO WANTS IT OPEN.

Mr. T. B. Aterbury, of the firm of T. B. Aterbury & Co., flint glass manufacturers, was very pronounced in favor of having the exhibition opened on Sunday. Said he: The Centennial is not a local show. Other nations have been importuned to join with us in the show, and their notions about the observance of the Sabbath should be somewhat regarded. Our idea about the observance of this day is widely at variance with the continental idea. Beyond any question the workingmen should be permitted to take their families to the Centennial on the Sabbath. They cannot be driven to the church by closing the Centennial upon them. Let those who have an abundance of leisure during the week, do the Centennial on the working days, and leave the Sabbath to those whose only day of recreation and rest it is. There is a large class who do not like to be mixed up with the workingmen. Let these go to church on Sunday, and thus escape the annoying contact with laborers. With the Sunday opening there should be some restrictions. The saloons should be closed.

NONE OF HIS FUNERAL.

Mr. Benjamin Bakewell, Jr., of the firm of Bakewell, Pears & Co., did not feel that the matter was brought home to him, as a moral question at all. He was not the keeper of the consciences of the Commission, he said, and he was quite prepared to accept the result of the controversy, whatever it might be, without feeling any qualms of conscience. If the difficulty assumed such a shape that men should be compelled to take sides, he would enroll himself with those who were opposed to the opening. Nevertheless, if it be finally decided to open the exhibition on Sunday, he would not think of withdrawing his goods. He had enough trouble to get them there, and there he proposed to leave them until the show was over. Mr. Bakewell said jocosely, that the advocates of the opening, might advance the argument that it was proposed to thus provide for the influx of strangers upon philanthropic principles. For a stranger Philadelphia is the dullest of places on Sunday, said he, and it might be that, out of pure sympathy for the forlorn wretches who happen to be stranded there, it would be a good thing to provide them this means of innocent diversion. Mr. Bakewell was inclined to saddle the responsibility for the present agitation upon the newspapers. He thought that if they had let it alone there would have been no trouble. He had lost sight of the fact that the opportunity for dissension was made by the Commissioners, in giving especial prominence, in their circular, to the declaration that the Sabbath would be reverentially respected, and that the Exhibition would not be opened upon the Lord's day. When reminded of this he left that phase of the question, and immediately struck at the root of the whole controversy. "This," said he, "is merely the tail end of the German fight against the American observance of the Sabbath. It is a foreign fight altogether, and the Exhibition is an American institution." In the closing moments of the interview, Mr. Bakewell said that he did not think that the saloons could be closed on Sunday, if the other features of the Exhibition were allowed to be open. If it was wrong to have the saloons open on Sunday, it was equally wrong to have them open upon other days.

"O wad some power the gift to gi' us,
To see oursel's as ithers see us,"

Behold that pale, emaciated figure, with downcast eye, like some criminal about to meet her fate! See that nervous, distrustful look, as she walks along with a slow and unsteady step. The pink has left her cheeks and the cherry her lips. The once sparkling, dancing eyes are now dull and expressionless. The once warm, dimpled hands are now thin and cold. Her beauty has fled. What has wrought this wondrous change? What is that which is lurking beneath the surface of that once lovely form? Does she realize her terrible condition? Is she aware of the woeful appearance she makes? Woman, from her very nature, is subject to a catalogue of diseases from which man is entirely exempt. Many of these maladies are induced by her own carelessness, or through ignorance of the laws of her being. Again, many Female Diseases, if properly treated, might be arrested in their course, and thereby prove of short duration. They should not be left to an inexperienced physician who does not understand their nature, and is, therefore, incompetent to treat them. The importance of attending to Female Diseases in their earliest stages cannot be too strongly urged. For if neglected, they frequently lead to Consumption, Chronic Debility, and oftentimes to Insanity. In all classes of Female Diseases, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is without a rival. No medicine has ever surpassed it. In "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," of which R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., is the author and publisher, is an extended treatise on WOMAN AND HER DISEASES. Under this head, the various affections to which woman is incident are carefully considered, accurately portrayed, and a restorative course of treatment suggested. Every woman, as she values her life and health, should possess a copy of this valuable book. If she be diseased, this "Adviser" will show her how she may be restored to health, and also direct her how she may ward off many maladies to which she is constantly being exposed. Let every suffering woman heed this timely advice and see herself as others see her. Price of Adviser $1.50 (post-paid) to any address.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 26¼f.

BONDS at Frankfort, new 5s, 102⅜.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 112¼.

POOR WINSLOW has had ten additional days of imprisonment allotted him, with the assurance that he will then be released, whether he be extradited or not. He is evidently the victim of govermental misunderstandings.

A MOST desperate attempt is being made to annoy the President, and to make a martyr of General CUSTER at the same time. The fact that CUSTER can get an almost constant hearing through the press, and that he has not been degraded in rank or command, but simply not sent on scouting expedition, does not involve mistreatment. He was on duty before a committee of Congress, with the intimation that he might be called for again, and that led to the President appointing General TERRY, who organized the expedition to its command.

THE cry against extortionate charges at the Centennial is rising into volume, and, unless something is done to check the growing feeling, the Exposition will suffer serious injury. Instances almost without number, of undoubted extortion, are recorded, and the news is rapidly flying over the country. The country people, residing at a distance, will be frightened either into staying at home, or of providing for their wants without troubling the restaurants. The bad faith of these extortioners constitute one of the worst features of the affair.

THE very excellent policy of our railroads, of promoting faithful and intelligent officials was noted in our local columns yesterday, in the deserved promotion of Mr. MESSLER. Two decades of faithful service entitled him to the recognition so wisely bestowed. There is, in this policy, a suggestion to employers of all grades. Changes are as a rule of doubtful advantage, while a system of promotion, which will inspire competition, will prove very advantageous to all who thus have the opportunity to rise. We congratulate Mr. MESSLER on his deserved good fortune.

WE PUBLISH, this morning, the list of licenses, showing the amounts the county is to derive from that source, provided the State Treasurer does not enforce a claim for the usual proportion. It is certainly wrong, whatever the law on the subject may be decided to be, that the State should demand any portion of the money derived from county licenses. What is derived from this source should go into the County Treasury, where it will do valuable service in meeting the demands made upon it. All else aside, it is our private opinion that license money for the sale of liquor should be expended in the locality where the liquor is sold.

THE Centennial Committee of Councils, to which has been entrusted the duty of perfecting arrangements for a grand jubilee in this city on the Fourth of July, has, we learn, informally decided to extend beyond the bounds of Allegheny county the invitation to participate in the ceremonies of the day, and include the residents of all the other towns and counties of Western Pennsylvania, and also of Eastern Ohio and West Virginia. If this plan is carried out, and we trust it will be, the celebration will represent a very large scope of country and cannot fail of being a most decided success. It will gather in this city many thousands of people, and the usual custom of the railroads to reduce their rates about that period will contribute largely toward securing the success of what, even in its present crude conception, now gives promise of being the greatest commemorative event that Pittsburgh has ever known, and one that will be worthy of the spirit of the time. Aside from its patriotic phase the presence of such large numbers of people must naturally be beneficial to our business interests. The plans of the committee are as yet in a chrysalis state, but if executed as faintly outlined above they will certainly eventuate in a display that will prove a future subject of pardonable pride. The efforts of the committee will doubtless be warmly seconded by the entire community.

SUNDAY AT THE CENTENNIAL.

There are certain phases to the Sabbath question which we do not deem appropriate for discussion in secular journals, and we have consequently put them aside; but there are other, and practical phases of the subject which do come within the province of secular journalism. Among them is that of opening the Centennial on the Sabbath to visitors. The Commission decided against it, but a meeting was held in Philadelphia Saturday evening, to influence a change of decision. A few of the names of the leading spirits have been published, and we presume these are to be taken as fair samples of the others. Archbishop WOOD represented the Catholic Church, while the Unitarian and, we think, Universalist Churches were also represented. Dr. FURNESS we cannot certainly place, as to denomination. JOHN W. FORNEY and Dr. MACKENZIE represented the Continental idea of Sabbath observance. The meeting, in brief, so far as representative names appear, was antagonistic to what is usually understood as orthodox Christianity, and its motive was to put aside one of the cherished institutions of the orthodox churches. We hold that every right minded journal, and all Christian people should protest against it. The abstract question, whether Sunday is the LORD'S Sabbath, or whether, if it is, it is to be as rigidly observed as is taught in the orthodox churches, we do not discuss. It is sufficient for our purpose that it is almost universally recognized that some day must be accepted as the Sabbath; that aside from the Divine law, human necessities require one day in the seven for rest. Abstention from labor, business, and even public amusements constitute, along with religious worship, the essential features of the American Sabbath. It is distinguished from the Continental Sabbath, in that it eliminates business and public amusements from the day, and lifts it to a higher plane as a day for religious devotions. The object of the agitation referred to, is to break down the American, and substitute the Continental Sabbath. We protest against this, for good and sufficient reasons.

In the first place, the plea made for it is founded in a perversion of truth. It is claimed that it is the poor man's holiday, and that it is the only day when he can enjoy the Centennial. It is amazing how sympathetic certain persons become in behalf of the poor when they have an ulterior object in view; yet few really seek to earnestly and carefully examine their real desires or condition. Unless the Exposition is opened free only those can go who can spare the price of admission; and, to a very large extent those who can do this, can take the time to go on a week day. America has but few of the extremely poor, who cannot afford to eat meat or enjoy a holiday from labor. Our poor people, in many instances, purchase the very best the market affords, and live so far as food is concerned, in the most excellent manner. It is not, therefore, the favor to them, to throw open the Exposition on the Sabbath, that is pretended. On the other hand, the throwing open of the buildings will require that all the employes there shall work continuously, seven days in the week, unless an extra force is provided. If it is a mere question of personal accommodation, one class of workers should be as much respected as another.

Its great wrong, however, is in the demoralization of the American Sabbath. The Centennial Exposition, in its application to this country, is a national affair; and it is thus, representative of our religious as well as of our practical ideas. Ours is a Christian nation, with stricter usages, as regards Sabbath observance, than are prevalent in Europe. It is a day sacred to the poor, and is utilized in religious instruction and observance, resulting in information and intelligence, which are the foundation of virtue and prosperity. It is a home day to those not religiously inclined, and while few restraints are imposed, other than those of a moral nature, yet these are sufficient to cause it to be respectfully observed. The Continental Sabbath is, after the morning service at the church, a holiday, given up to recreation, drinking, playing, the opera, theatre, and other enjoyments. It does not answer to the Scriptural idea of the Sabbath, but is rather a day of dissipation. Its effect if generally accepted in this country will be to lower the tone of public morals, and to create carelessness as to religious instruction, which will ultimately prove seriously injurious to the nation. It is a matter for pride that our people claim a higher status as to religious issues, than is maintained in Europe. And further, we believe this very steadiness of Sabbath observance has much to do in developing those qualities of national character, which are the hope and permanence of our institutions.

The orthodox people of Philadelphia, and all the country, should take prompt action to meet this assault on American Sabbath observance. It is one of the bulwarks of our liberty. If we allow it to be destroyed, the nation will suffer serious harm. To have the innovation first made at the Centennial, will be to start it, with all the prestige of a national movement. Whatever variations of observance may develop in particular localities, it is not wise for us to nationalize the degradation of the Sabbath day. After all that may be said, in the line of critical argument, two facts remain. 1. That Sabbath observance is strictly enjoined in the Scriptures; and while the details of this observance are not laid down, the spirit that shall characterize it is clearly set forth. It is a religious, reverential spirit, the day being kept unto the Lord. 2. The Divine Being controls the destiny of nations, and this with reference to the observance of this law. Biblical and profane history are full of the clearest illustrations of this point. And, in view of this, it may be said that to openly fly in the face of the Sabbath, changing it from a day of religious devotion, to one of pleasure, will inevitably draw down on us, as a nation, the Divine disfavor. Where the question is one of personal interpretation, as to individual liberty, we have no comments to offer, but when it is proposed to override the prevailing but undemonstrative sentiment of the country, in favor of an undesecrated Sabbath, it is time to protest. The Christian sentiment of the country, in our judgment, should effectively sustain the Centennial authorities, who have taken the right position on the question at issue. General HAWLEY has said he will resign, if the Sabbath rule is not observed; and Mr. CORLISS has declared that his engine shall not run on the Sabbath day. Let this spirit find general expression, and all will be right.

JUDGE BLACK, in his defense of BELKNAP, in the impeachment trial, puts in a strong light, the fact that he has not been softly or mercifully dealt with. He said "there is an institution among us called the Department of Justice. On its seal is the legend, Qui pro domine justitia sequitur. It is headed just now by a gentleman renowned for his legal learning and for his love for anything that is just and right. It is his special business to hold the executive head level on subjects of this kind. He heard that his friend, brother, and colleague was accused by a committee—not proved to be guilty, but simply accused. Did he throw the broad ægis of the Constitution and the laws over him to protect him and shield him and save him? No. He resolved on the instant that he would burn with an indignation as fierce as the most virtuous of Democrats. Without warrant, without process of any kind, without an oath, without proof of probable cause, he surrounded him with a body of armed policemen, filled his house with them, put them at the front door, at the back door, in hall, parlor, and kitchen. If you had seen him in that condition you might have supposed him to be a fallen minister of some Turkish despot surrounded by the janizaries of the Sultan and waiting quietly for the bowstring. When a lawless outrage like this can be perpetrated by the Department of Justice, when the Attorney General, the special guardian of the law, can be lifted from his feet and carried away by the tide of prejudice, have we not reason to distrust the fairness of politicians in general. "As a strong statement of the case, this cannot be excelled. We have inclined to the opinion, for some time, that there might be a possible reaction in BELKNAP'S favor, resulting from the excessive anxiety to make of him a subject for particularly severe punishment. After all, justice is temperate and even.

Indian Antiquities.

Lancaster county is particularly rich in Indian antiquities, which are constantly being brought to light by the upturning of the soil, especially in the vicinity of the Susquehanna. Along its banks and on some of its islands great numbers of stone implements, fragmentary pottery of primitive workmanship and entire vessels have from time to time been discovered, but no one locality has produced a greater abundance of these relics than Witner's farm, situated a few miles from Columbia. From here have been taken thousands of arrowheads, much pottery, including several wonderfully preserved urns and myriads of beads of European make. The latter possess an antiquity, probably, of two hundred years, and were undoubtedly obtained from the early white settlers. They are of glass, from one-fourth to an inch in length, cylindrical or four sided, and frequently slightly twisted. The exterior color is usually a dingy reddish brown.

—After the Centennial opening exercises were over, and the crowd had dispersed through the immense buildings, leaving the grounds comparatively open and clear, one of the Turkish visitors, clad in the flowing silk gown peculiar to his country, and accompanied by a beautiful young woman, who seemed to be his wife, and who was magnificently attired in the national costume and brilliant with many gems, passed through the avenue leading from Machinery Hall to the main building. The couple attracted a great deal of attention and much innocent comment. When they had just reached the doors of the grand gallery they were met by a certain well known negro member of Congress from South Carolina, who was accompanied by two of those peculiarly beautiful colored women who are so often met with in the Palmetto State. As the parties approached each other the Congressman, who was swelled out in all the dignity of a dress-coat and white kid gloves, exclaimed, looking fixedly at the Turkish lady, "I 'clares to man, dat am a stunnin' looking woman." A shade of jealous annoyance passed over the face of one of his companions as he said this, and running close up to the Turkish party, she inspected the face of the little lady from the East with her gold-mounted eye-glasses. Then she returned to her escort and exclaimed, "Well, Mr. S——, I'se sure I can't say I admires your taste. Dat poor Turk 'gal ain't neither nigger nor white—just a poor half-way thing—notin' more, notin' less."—New York Times.

Struck with a Coupling Pin.

Conductor M. E. Cuchin last night put off a train on the B. & O. R. R. two men named Henry Conway and Edward Scantlen. They afterwards got into a dispute with the watchman at the Connellsville depot and struck the watchman on the head with an iron coupling pin, inflicting a possibly fatal wound.

Allegheny Committees.

The Ordinance Committee of Allegheny Councils met last evening, and prepared a new ordinance for the licensing of peddlers, fixing the rate at $25 per annum.

The Committee on Street Railroads appointed a sub-committee to confer with the Pittsburgh & Manchester Railway authorities in regard to allowing the cars to stand on Beaver avenue, at the foot of Pennsylvania avenue.

The Committee on Railroads prepared an ordinance prohibiting persons from jumping on or off trains while in motion, and fixing a penalty therefor. They also instructed Street Commissioner Hanna to notify the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad Company to extend their fence on Preble avenue to Strawberry Lane.

The Coming Jubilee.

The Centennial Committee in charge of the plans for the celebration of the Fourth of July will hold a meeting to-morrow afternoon. It is stated that they propose enlarging the scope of the celebration and inviting the citizens of all the counties and towns of Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Western Virginia to assist in it. With the Centennial interest and fervor daily increasing such a course would certainly result in the assembling of an immense concourse of people in this city on the Fourth of July. With reduced railroad fares many who do not think of visiting Philadelphia would be content to come here on the Nation's natal day and assist in swelling the jubilating throng. The plans of the committee are as yet in an incomplete state, but the more comprehensive they are made the greater will be the success of the celebration.

Decoration Day.

At a meeting last night of the various G. A. R., Posts, at the hall of Sheridan Post No. 88, on East Diamond street, Allegheny, the following was adopted:

Resolved—By the Posts of the Grand Army of the Republic of this vicinity, that we lament that the day that was originally dedicated to the remembrance of the heroic dead, and paying suitable tributes to their memory, has been perverted from its holy purpose and given to festivities and thoughtless amusements, and we give expression to the hope that our people hereafter will observe the sacred day with becoming solemnity and patriotic devotion and make it in truth a memorial day, worthy of the men who sacrificed all for their country.

THE MARKET PAVING.

New Bids Opened Last Night but no Contract Awarded.

A meeting of the Market Committee was held last night in the City Clerk's office, Mr. Schwarm presiding. The contract for laying a brick pavement on Miltenberger street, in the Fourteenth ward, in front of the Fifth avenue market house, was awarded to J. J. Booth at forty cents per square yard.

Councils having refused to approve the paving of the west side of the Diamond square with Vulcanite the matter was taken up again last night, and new bids having been advertised for they were opened.

The bids per yard were as follows:

S. R. Johnston, Somerset granite	$ 2.50
R. Coward, Blue brick	2.00
J. J. Booth, Ligonier stone	2.00
P. O'Neil, Lancaster granite	2.70
S. McPherson, Trap rock	3.37½
W. Flinn, cobble	89
Harrison & Bro., Maryland granite	3.00

The bids were all referred to a sub-committee to examine the material offered. A motion to lay the cobble stone was lost by a vote of four yeas to five nays.

Superintendent Caskey was instructed to purchase such hose as he deems necessary to do the cleansing in the market square.

GYMNASTIC MAGGIE.

The Leap of a Workhouse Prisoner Yesterday from a Swiftly Running Train.

Officers Dunn, Wood and Harris started yesterday for the Workhouse, at Claremont, with seven prisoners—four males and three females. The train was bowling along the West Penn Railroad at the rate of about fifteen miles an hour, and had reached a point just above Sharpsburg when Maggie Conway, a thirty day disorderly conduct prisoner, thought she would like to take a look at the country through which they were passing. She went out on the platform, followed by officer Dunn. One or two noticeable features in the landscape were specially pleasing to her æsthetic tastes and she called to the attention of the officer the unobtrusive merits which her practiced artistic eye so quickly discovered. She dwelt with emphasis upon one particular scene. Dunn turned to drink in its varied beauty. He became lost in contemplative admiration. When he returned to earth he found Margaret gone. She had taken advantage of his absorption and leaped from the speeding train. He looked back and saw her flipping somersaults down a steep embankment with the grace and agility of an India rubber ball. This gymnastic exercise wasn't through Maggie's own volition. She would have preferred its postponement, but the momentum of the train would not admit of it. Jerking the rope the cars slacked up enough to let officers Dunn and Harris off. They returned and recaptured the prisoner, and found her unhurt, with the exception of a number of insignificant bruises. Officer Wood being left alone with four men and two women, he bethought himself that his position possessed the element of danger to a certain degree, and he strengthened it by drawing his revolver and threatening to shoot the first man that made a menacing movement. In that way he got his charges safely to Claremont. Dunn and Harris, however, were obliged to two pay dollars to a needy tiller of the soil to get their prisoner transported by vehicle to her destination. Margaret wouldn't walk nor hire a cab, so the officers were obliged to treat her with a distinguished consideration that found anything but a graceful bestowal.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

A Thunderbolt Blows Up a Drug Store—Buildings Shattered for Two Squares—Two Houses Reduced to Ashes, and Several Persons Seriously Injured—Base Ballers Get a Touch of Lightning.

Yesterday afternoon was most excessively sultry and the atmosphere depressing, portending what eventually came—a severe thunder storm. Within the city limits, especially along the line of the most busy streets, the rumbling and roaring of the thunder was not particularly distinguishable, but still occasionally a louder clap than usual arrested attention, and carried apprehensions of another catastrophe such as occurred in the East End two or three days ago.

UP THE MONONGAHELA,

however, the storm was even more severe than it was here, in the neighborhood of Braddocks the lightning and thunder being especially noticeable, and in the borough itself the results of the electrical phenomena were terrible indeed.

At about a quarter past five o'clock last evening lightning struck the building in Braddocks occupied by Dr. J. D. Schooley & Sons, on the first floor as a drug store, and on the second floor as offices and a fog signal factory.

A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

followed immediately, blowing down the building and setting fire to it and the dwelling of Wm. McCombs, adjoining, both being totally destroyed. John McCrady and Wm. Bowers, employes, were at work at the time, and were blown out into the street a distance of forty feet. Bowers received a painful cut on the head, and McCrady received injuries which may result fatally. The Messrs. Schooley also narrowly escaped with their lives. The explosion was so terrible that the glass was shattered from almost every building within two squares.

THE LOSSES.

The loss of the Messrs. Schooley was very heavy, but could not be accurately ascertained last night. The Doctor lost a valuable library, instruments and specimens, besides the building and stock, and had no insurance. Mr. McCombs' loss is about $4,000. He was insured, but for what amount was not learned. The Schooley building was a rather imposing looking frame structure with a mansard roof.

BASE BALLERS STRUCK.

Besides the above stroke of lightning, we are informed that a thunderbolt struck the fence surrounding the grounds where the Braddock and Sewickley base ball clubs were playing. The fence was thrown down, two or three persons upon it badly stunned, and McWilliams, of the Braddock club, knocked from his base and his clothing considerably scorched.

Whether any further damage was done in the neighborhood we have not learned, but it is likely to-day will develope more.

JOSEPH AND JOSEPHINE SCHONLAN were yesterday granted permission by the Common Pleas Court No. 1 to adopt Agnes Miller.

JUDGE EWING severely reprimanded a juryman who was five minutes late upon the re-convening of Court after the noon recess yesterday.

JUDGE COLLIER will preside at the June term of the Criminal Court. The session will probably be a short one, as His Honor starts for Europe in July.

IN the Common Pleas Court No. 1 yesterday, a bill in equity was filed by Philip Hoerr, guardian of John Utz and George Utz, minor children of Charles Utz, and Christ Kolpo and Louisa, his wife and Louisa Kolpo, executrix of Charles Utz, deceased, against John G. Conner. In 1873 Charles Utz was the owner of one lot in the Twenty-seventh and two in the Twenty-eighth ward which he traded to the defendant for a tract of land in Pine township, Conner agreeing to pay debts of Mr. Utz's to the amount of $650, and to pay $100 in cash. Conner represented that the Pine township land contained twenty-two acres and was worth $200 per acre. After the trade was made and the Utz heirs had taken possession, they found that instead of twenty-two acres the tract contained only eleven acres and 112 perches and was worth only $100 per acre. They now desire to recover from Conner the value of ten acres and forty-eighth perches at $200 per acre, and $5,000 damages.

The Late Alexander Speer, Esq.

A meeting of the Directors of the Western Insurance Company was held at their office yesterday morning at which the following action was taken in reference to the death of Alexander Speer, Esq. A committee consisting of Messrs. M'Cune, Reymer and Jackson were appointed to express the sense of the Board. Their report was as follows, which was adopted:

WHEREAS, In the mysterious providence of the all-wise Ruler of the universe, one of the oldest members of the Board, Alexander Speer, has been called from the scenes of his earthly career; therefore,

Resolved, That while we reverently bow in submission to the will of Him who has permitted this sad bereavement to overtake us, we cannot refrain from expressing our heartfelt sorrow and our high appreciation of his valuable services to this company and to the community.

Resolved, That in the death of our departed friend, the community has lost one of its most valued citizens, whose long and active business career was ever characterized by correct business principles and unimpeachable integrity, and whose native force of character, rare good judgment and business enterprise have contributed very largely to the growth and prosperity of our city.

Resolved, That as a director of this company he has ever manifested a deep interest in its welfare; and that his purity of character and genial manners have endeared him to all the members of the Board; as a mark of respect we will attend his funeral in a body.

Resolved, That we respectfully tender our condolence and sympathy to the family of our deceased friend and assure them that we are deeply sensible of their irreparable loss.

Resolved, That these resolutions be entered on the minutes, and that a copy thereof be signed by the President and Secretary and given to the family of the deceased.

Resolutions of Respect.

At a special meeting of the North sub-District School Board (4th ward), held on Monday evening, May 15th, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted and ordered to be entered upon the minutes and a copy presented to the family of the deceased:

WHEREAS, Alexander Speer, Esq., who, for a period of twenty-seven years, has been a faithful and efficient member of the Board, has been called from time to eternity; therefore,

Resolved, That this Board bears testimony to his usefulness as a member, and to the deep interest he has always taken in the prosperity and welfare of our school.

Resolved, That we also desire to testify to his high standing as a citizen, to his untarnished reputation as a business man, and to the integrity and justice he exhibited in all the relations of life.

Resolved, That these proceedings be signed by the President and Secretary and furnished the press for publication.

W. A. HERRON, Secretary,

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, May 16, 1876.

There was not much activity in the money market yesterday. The quietness of Saturday was carried over, except in the single particular that Monday settlements are usually of more importance than on the average of other days. What we have said of our banks is still the fact. 1. That there are ample funds to meet every demand that may be made, for discounts or accommodations. 2. That where doubtful paper is offered, it is thrown out, the banks being particular, in the first instance, to have good paper, but ready to accommodate to every reasonable limit, this necessity being supplied. 3. Our banks naturally take first care of regular customers, and afterward of the general business of the city. In this they pursue a more liberal policy than the banks East or West, in that they seek to inspire rather than to hinder business.

In general business circles there was rather more than the average activity yesterday. The demand for our manufactured products is reported on the increase, and while the business public, aside from manufacturers, are despondent, our manufacturers are hopeful of a good run of business.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, May 15, 1876.

The leading markets have changed but little since the date of our last weekly review, and business is very generally reported dull, unusually so for this season of the year. The breadstuffs market have stiffened up in tone, in consequence of a sharp advance in the west within the past few days, but the probability is that the movement is speculative, and, if so, it will be of short duration. The grocery trade is less active, as it generally is at this particular time, but in point of values, there has been no recent change; country orders have fallen off considerably of late. The hog product has stiffened up again, without, however, any improvement in prices, and the general outlook is not favorable for an advance. The produce markets continue very dull; nearly all our produce dealers report that they never knew business to be so dull at this particular time, or has been for a month or more past. Butter, Eggs, Cheese, Potatoes, Dried Fruit, Beans, etc., etc., are in good supply and prices are weak and drooping. Lumber is very firm and advancing.

APPLES—The supply of Green Apples is growing very small, but the demand is also falling off and prices are weak, and even for good sound fruit are barely maintained; we continue to quote at $4a5 ℔ bbl for prime to choice. Partially decayed fruit, $1 to 2 ℔ bbl.

APPLE BUTTER—60a65c ℔ gall.

ASHES—Following are the current rates—in a jobbing way: Common Soda, (48 per cent.) 3a3¼c; Refined do., (50 per cent.) 3¾a4c; Pearl ash, 7½a8; Potash, 7c; Nitrate Soda, 3¾a4c; Manganese, 6½c; Arsenic, 5c; Fluor Spar, 2a2½c.

ALE—There is no change to note in prices and rade is generally reported dull, like everything else, affected by the hard times. X $8 ℔ bbl to the city and $9 to country; XX $10; India $11. half bbls in proportion.

BROOMS—The demand is good, with no change in prices. Quotations for "Union factory" are as follows:

No 2 common Brooms	$1,85
No 3 Hurl	2,00
No 4 Hurl	2,75
No 5 Hurl	3,00
No 6 Hurl	3,25
No 3 carpet	3,50
No 4 carpet	3,75
Fancy Parlor	4,00
Railroad	2,25a3,00
Stock Braid (48)
Whisps, 6, 8 and 10 inch	1,00a1,50 per dozen
Toy Brooms	1,00a1,50 "

BAGGING—Amoskeag, American (two bushel) and other similar standard brands 27 to 30c by the 100. Penn Mill, 30 cts, 5 per cent off, 30 days.

BROOM HANDLES—We quote in a jobbing way:

No 1 Plain	$16 00 ℔ thousand
No 2 do	12 00	do
No 1 Painted	24 00	do
Toy Painted	12 50	do

BELTING—Following are the current rates for best belting:

Inch.	Per Foot	Inch.	Per Foot
1	$ 06	5	$ 54
1½	12	5½	60
2	13	6	66
2½	24	7	78
3	30	8	90
3½	36	10	1 14
4	42	12	1 38
4½	48	14	1 62

Discount 15 to 30 per cent. as to quality and quantity.

BEESWAX—In light supply and steady at 30c ℔ lb in lots, and 35c in a jobbing way.

BROOM CORN—In moderate demand for choice brush only. We hear of no large lots moving. Short brush dull; sales of choice hurl at 9½a10½c; choice brush that will work up, 8a8½, according to quality: medium grades in small lots, 5½a7½c; small lots of inferior going at most any price they will bring.

BEANS—The market continues very quiet, and there is not as much inquiry now as there was a few weeks ago, and while the stock here is somewhat reduced, it continues in excess of present requirements which are very small, and prices, contrary to general expectation, are no better. Prime navies quotable at $1,10a1,12½ ℔ bushel to the trade, and $1,20a1,25 in a small way. The supply in this market as already stated, is small, as the arrivals for some months past have been small, and an improvement in the market within the next few weeks is not improbable, although the prospect just now is not very promising.

BUTTER—Is coming in freely, and with a diminished demand, holders all anxious to realize, and a largely increased production, as there always is at this season of the year, the market is weak and drooping, and but for the cool weather, prices, in all probability, would be lower now than during the week than they did. Lower rates are very generally expected, hence dealers are anxious to keep down stocks, while buyers, for the same reason, are buying only to supply immediate actual wants, determined to carry no more stock than they can possibly avoid. This is the general position of our market at the present writing, and as the eastern markets are a good deal like our own, there is no inducement to ship in that or any other direction on consignment. Choice dairy Butter is quotable at 24a25c: prime to choice rolls, 20a22c; medium to good, 15a18: common, 10a12. Western Reserve Factory, 27a28, but, excepting for something fancy, 23 is now the top of the market, and buyers generally, as already stated, don't want much at any price.

CANNED GOODS—There is a fair demand, but prices have undergone little or no change recently.

2 ℔ Blackberries	$2 50	2 ℔ Bartlett Pears	$3 00
2 ℔ Blueberries	2 00	2 ℔ Common Pears	2 00
2 ℔ White Cherries	2 75	2 ℔ Pine Apple	2 60
2 ℔ Red Cherries	2 00	2 ℔ Quinces	2 00
2 ℔ Gooseberries	1 50	2 ℔ Raspberries	2 75
2 ℔ Green Gages	3 00	2 ℔ Strawberries	2 00
2 ℔ Egg Plums	3 00	2 ℔ Lima Beans	2 00
2 ℔ Damson Plums	2 50	2 ℔ String Beans	1 50
2 ℔ Peaches	1 75	2 ℔ Winslows Corn.	2 25
3 ℔ Peaches	2 25	2 ℔ Peas	2 25
℔ pie Peaches	1 60	3 ℔ Tomatoes	1 65

CHEESE—New Cheese continues to come forward freely, and while there has been no accumulation, the market is weak, as it is very generally expected that prices, as they always do about this particular time, will rule lower. The weather continues very favorable for pasture, and a largely increased production of both Cheese and Butter this and next month is as sure as anything can be. Prime new Ohio may be quoted, in a jobbing way, at 11a11½, and prime old New York, the supply of which is almost exhausted, 14½a15c.

CORDAGE AND ROPE—Business continues exceedingly dull, but there has been no change in card rates for several months.

⅝ " "	11¾	"
¼ and 5-16 in. diameter	12½	"

Tarred lath twine	10¾	"

COAL AND COKE—Coal is quotable at 5a5½c ℔ bu in round lots delivered free on cars in Pittsburgh, or in boats. Coke continues dull, but prices remain about as last quoted; $2,40a2,50 per ton delivered here.

COOPERAGE—Oil Barrel cooperage firm, with very little offering; the demand is fair. Best matched staves, $33; staves alone, $31; Heading, $42; Oil Barrels continue dull, but unchanged; countries $1,15; city make, $1,20a1,25.

CEMENT, &c., &c.—Following are the jobbing rates: White Lime—Cleveland and Fremont, $1,60 a1,75 ℔ bbl; Ohio, $1,50a1,65. Cement—Rosendale $3a3,50 ℔ bbl; Youghiogheny, $2,00a2,25; Louisville, $2,00a2,25; New Lisbon, $2,25a2,75; Portland, $6,50a7,50. Plaster—French's Selected, $4a4,25; New York, $3,50a3,75; Michigan, $3,50a3,75. Land Plaster, $3a3,50. White Sand, $1,50a1,75 ℔ bbl.

CRANBERRIES—$14a15 ℔ bbl.

DRIED FRUIT—Is more inquired for, and the stocks are being rapidly reduced. We quote choice N. Y. State Apples at 10a10½c ℔ lb; prime, 9½a10; Peaches, 11½a12½c for prime halves. Blackberries, 12½c. Pitted Cherries, 25a28c. Raspberries, 30a33c.

EGGS—Dealers, almost without an exception, have been very much disappointed in the course of the market for some weeks past; it was very generally expected that the receipts would fall off during the latter part of April, and, as a result, that higher prices would prevail. The receipts, however, instead of falling off, have been quite liberal until within the past few days, and with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, prices, instead of being higher, have ruled lower during the past week than at any time this year. The prevailing rates for several days past have been 12½a13c, with a very light demand. It is but proper to remark, however, that a firmer feeling is being developed, under the influence of diminished receipts, and then the shipment of some 500 barrels to Philadelphia has not been without its influence in the same direction.

FISH—There is a fair trade, but no recent change in prices. We quote:

Ex No 1 Mess Mackerel	$34 00	℔ bbl.
No 1 do do	32 00	do
Ex No 1 Shore do	28 00	do
No 1 Shore do	25 00	do
Ex No 1 Bay do	20 00	do
No 1 Bay do	18 00	do
Ex No 2 do	16 00	do
Large No 3 do	12 50	do
Split Labrador Herring	8 00	do
Split Shore Herring	6 25a 6 50	do
Whitefish	5 75	℔ hf bbl
Lake Herring	3 75	do
Large Georges Codfish	6½c	℔ lb
Medium do do	6	do
Boneless Codfish	7	do
Halibut	12 50	do
No 1 Herring	40c	℔ box
Scaled do	50c	do
Smoked Bloater Herring	$1.75	do

FLOUR—The market for this important staple has stiffened up somewhat during the past few days in sympathy with Wheat, but there has been no advance whatever in prices as yet, and as the upward movement in Wheat is thought to be speculative, it is not likely that there will be. The general outlook at the present writing warrants the prediction that there will be no important change in prices during the next 30 or 40 days, or until the result of the coming harvest has been more fully developed. The prospect just now is very favorable for a full average crop of Wheat, but it is well to bear in mind that the most critical time is from now until it has been harvested; it is still in danger of frost and then continued rains or a drouth are by no means improbable. If there should be a full crop of Wheat, Flour will undoubtedly rule lower during the next cereal year than it has for many years past, as the supply of old stock, both in this country and Europe, is large. We continue former quotations: Spring wheat flours, $6,25a6,75, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas; red winters, $6,50a$7; ambers, 7,25a7,50; fancy white wheat and patent process, $8,75a9,50. Rye Flour, 4,75a5.

FEATHERS—Dull. Sales of small lots at 56a57.

GRAIN—The grain markets have been quite steady during the past week. There was a slight advance and considerable fluctuation in Chicago last week, which appeared to be of a local character, caused by the cutting in freight rates and comparatively light receipts for this season of the year; of course, the shorts felt a little nervous and thought they had better cover their contracts. Some of the dealers there are beginning to realize that all the grain produced west of Chicago does not stop there to find a market. The low rates on through freights from points west of there enables shippers to send their grain around that city to the eastern markets at a great saving in freights and other expenses which must be added to all grain that passes through their elevators, hence the uneasiness amongst the grain dealers there. The eastern market remains steady, with a good supply and not much margin to ship to Europe, as ocean freights have been advanced—much to the discomfort of railroad companies who have given through rates from the far west to Liverpool. Our Wheat market has been quite firm for good sound Wheat at former prices; $1,35a1,38 for good sound red; $1,41a1,43 for Michigan white; lower grades, $1,20a1,30, as to quality. Corn—No change to note in the Corn market; the supply about equal to the demand; strictly sound selling at 60a61c from first hands, and 63a64c to the trade; lower grades, 55a58c, as to quality. Oats, 40a42c free in elevator. Rye lower; 78a80c to the trade.

GROCERIES—Coffee—The market for Rio continues firm at unchanged figures. Fine Coffees are scarce and are held higher, relatively, than medium and low grades which are in ample supply. The importers are strong in their views, having been encouraged by late favorable reports from the primary markets. Java in large supply; and the statistical position shows a large stock of all kinds, viz:

Stock of Brazil in first hands	159,554 bgs.
Afloat and loading for the U. S.	51,254 "
Purchased at Rio for the U. S. to May 10	121,000 "
Total visible supply	331,808 "
Stock in second hands	178,536 "
Stock of mild coffee in first hands	98,000 "

The incoming crop of Brazil Coffee is reported larger than the earlier estimates, and will tend to depress rather than stimulate the market. Sugars are firmer, and some refineries ⅛ up on standard white. The stock of raw is about 29,000 hhds less than at this date last year; and first hand owners are strong for higher figures. The belief is general that sugars will advance as the season progresses. Syrups in good demand and firm. New Orleans Molasses a shade stronger. Carolina Rice easier. Spices—Ginger and Cassia a shade easier; Pepper, Nutmegs, and Pimento tending upward. Teas unsteady, and the market weak at a decline of 2 to 3cts. ℔ lb for Japan and Green descriptions, Oolong steady.

HAY—The receipts of baled have been more liberal during the past week, and the market is dull and prices easy in consequence. No. 1 Timothy, $16 a17 ℔ ton, and No. 2 do., $14a15. Loose from country wagons, $15a20 ℔ ton, as to quality and condition.

HIDES—The prices have declined since our last report. There is a good demand for heavy steers, but cows, bulls and damaged are lower and hard to sell. We quote:

OILS—The best brands of Extra Lard oils are off about 3c ℔ ga lon at the points of purchase. J. V. Lewis & Co.'s winter grades of Miners Oil firm at our quotations. Linseed Oil steady. Carbon quoted at 11a11½ cents ℔ gallon for standard brands.

POTATOES—The market continues dull, but there has been no change in prices since the date of our last review. Selling by the wagon load to hucksters and storekeepers at 30a35c ℔ bu, and in a retail way at 35a40. There are very few buyers for more than a wagon load, and while prices are lower than they have been for a number of years, the prospect is not very favorable for an advance, as the supply still remaining in first hands is known to be large.

PEA-NUTS—Demand for Pea Nuts confined to job lots. Quotations from Cincinnati from some parties higher than the article is bringing here: we note sales of white at 6¼, 6½ and 7, as to quality; red at 5¼a6¼c.

PROVISIONS—While the tone continues easy, the general position of the market has not changed much since the date of our last review; there has been very fair business in the aggregate, but buyers generally, being apprehensive of lower prices, are not disposed to anticipate future wants. Hogs have stiffened up somewhat within the past few days, and if it holds out the market for the product will sympathize; the feeling, however, is that prices are more likely to decline than advance, hence the outlook for the product is not very favorable to those who are calculating upon higher prices.

ALLEGHENY LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, May 15, 1876.

CATTLE.

The supply was slightly in excess of that of last week, but with an increased demand, trade was more active, prices firmer, and while some dealers reported that they obtained no better rates, taking quality into consideration, we have reason to believe that in the aggregate, there was an advance of say 10a15c ℔ cwt. The Chicago bought cattle, of which the supply almost entirely consisted, cost fully as much as those of last week, and, while, as already stated, the market was more favorable to sellers, the best eviden ce of which is that the pens were pretty well cleared early in the day, yet it is doubtful whether the profit in the aggregate exceeded a full commission. The number of butchers in attendance to-day was larger than it has been for some time past, and among them were a number who have been drawing upon East Liberty during the past two or three months.

Sales were reported at 6a6¼ for choice butcher cattle; 5½a5¾ for prime, 4½a5 for medium to good and 3½a4 for common. Fat cows 3a3½c. Stock steers, 800a1,000 lbs, 4a4½, with but few offering, and, as yet, not much inquiry for them. It is worthy of notice that stock cattle are keeping up in value much better then fat cattle.

THE stage of water last evening was 5 feet 10 inches and stationary. Heavy rains during the afternoon, prospects favorable for more water. Business was more active, occasioned by the arrivals of several boats.

THE C. K. Peck is loading at St. Louis for Pittsburgh.

THE Mary Miller was advertised to leave Cincinnati for this port to-day.

THE Ed. Hobbs, Coal Hill and Barnard, were loading at St. Louis for this port on Saturday.

THE Emma Graham left Cincinnati, with a fine trip, and will be here on time. She will leave as usual on Wednesday at 5 P. M.

THE fine side-wheeler Arlington, Captain Dan. Moore, is filling up steadily for St. Louis, and as will be seen by card, is announced to depart to-morrow.

JAS. CAMERON, an old steamboat steward, while insane, jumped overboard from the Thompson Dean—below Shawneetown, and was drowned. He was on the Lady Gay and other steamers, and was a passenger on the Dean.

CAPT. D. S. A. GILMORE, accompanied by his family, arrived at Cincinnati on Saturday from Florida, where he has been wintering, and left the same day on the Emma Graham for Pomeroy. He is afflicted with bronchites.

THE arrivals since our last were the Salt Valley, from Ironton, Exchange from Portsmouth, and Carrie Brooks from Zanesville; also, towboats Tom Rees and B. D. Wood. The Mallie Ragon for Wheeling and Salt Valley for Ironton, departed.

THE Exchange, Capt. Jas. M. Kirker, is the regular packet for Portsmouth to-day, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. She will receipt through to Cincinnati, Louisville, and St. Louis. The Maddy brothers continue in charge of the office.

A MAN took deck passage on the Salt Valley at Marietta on her last up trip; he was under the influence of liquor when he got on the boat, and he had not been on over three hours when he fell overboard and was drowned. Deceased was apparently about 28 or 30 years of age, and was a stranger to every one on the boat.

THE Fred. Wilson passed up at 7:45 P. M., over eight days out from New Orleans. She came to Vicksburg flying light, where she picked up four barges, which she towed to Louisville, increasing her tow at the latter point to ten barges. The Wilson fired her cannon for the last time at New Orleans. As she was leaving they loaded her up, touched her off, and the load went out towards New Orleans, and the cannon, in pieces, went toward heaven, leaving a big hole in the upper works to show which way it went. Nobody hurt—and the Oakland still ahead.—Cin. Com. 14th.

THE Cincinnati Commercial of Sunday says: The suit of the Louisville Mail Line Company against the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Insurance Company, which has been on trial before Judge O'Connor and a jury during the entire week, was settled yesterday after the adjournment of the Court. As the testimony was not near through, the jury will be somewhat surprised, to-morrow morning to find their case disposed of, and their occupation as jurors gone. This case was founded on a policy issued to the Mail Line Company, covering cargo by their boats shipped as railroad freight, thus transposing the river route between this city and Louisville into an "all rail route." The Firemen's Insurance Company and the Globe Insurance Company had each issued similar policies, and were interested in the controversy alike with the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Insurance Company. The settlement embraces all the companies interested, all having agreed upon the same basis.
